

For over 30 years, AMSI has been dedicated to raising the standards of education in its community and building a foundation for the future of its children and young people through the provision of a complete and comprehensive educational solution.

Today, AMSI manages a number of regional schools providing high quality education to over 200,000 students. Students in AMSI schools benefit from the specialized expertise of AMSI's network of education professionals, specialists and staff, guided by a dynamic advisory panel which combines a host of professional backgrounds.